HELLO

After childhood stints in Wasilla, Alaska and Salt Lake City, Utah, I've spent most of my life in Post Falls, Idaho. I've been in professional development for over five years and have only become more inspired to continue to learn and grow in this career. As a developer, I am envious and appreciative of beautiful designs and always love the opportunity to bring them to life.

My long-term passion is to start an incubator in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho that will empower the talented designers and developers in the area to bring their ideas to life.

EXPERIENCE

- 14Four Mar 2017 - Current
Developer
Tight deadlines and a constant stream of high profile projects has helped me grow tremendously as a developer here. I am proud to have worked with clients such as Lays, Uber, Target, and Toyota.
- That's Lofty Dec 2017 - Current
Founder, Developer
Still in its infancy, That's Lofty will be an incubator where designers and developers can have the financial backing they need to make their passion projects a reality.
- Two7 Sept 2015 - Current
Founder, Developer
Two7 is a product design company based here in Coeur d'Alene, ID. With new branding, new products, and a new website on the way, I am excited to see how far we can make this grow.
- Rocket GUI Jun 2016 - Mar 2017
Developer
In my time at Rocket I worked as a front end developer building websites and apps for local companies.
- Stay Alfred Jan 2013 - Feb 2016
Developer, IT Director
This is where I fell in love with the startup culture. I worked in development, IT, and even sales at one point. From 5 to 35 employees, growth was quick and it was fun.
